

Community College Opportunity Grants for County Vocational-Technical Schools Now Available for Adult Learners

Those with Adjusted Gross Income of $0 to $100,000 are Eligible to Apply

New Jersey supports residents of all ages to pursue certification in an in-demand career field by providing financial aid to students enrolled at vocational-technical schools throughout the state. Eligible students can now apply for tuition assistance at one of the participating county vocational schools in select certification programs. After completion of your course, students will be eligible to receive college credits at a select county college. Reach out to your contact below to find out where you can receive your credits.

Eligibility

Eligibility and award amounts include consideration of the Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) of either the family (for dependent students) or the student/spouse (for independent students), satisfactory academic progress as determined by the schools, and that the student has not yet earned a college degree. Interested students should reach out to the contact below to get an application and learn how to file the FAFSA. Students must apply for the fall semester by November 1, 2023 and May 1, 2024 for the spring.

Salem County Vocational Technical Schools Adult Education

Certified Clinical Medical Assistant

Salem County Vocational Technical Schools has created an all-encompassing, allied health professional program that will provide students with valuable knowledge and national certifications for employment within the medical field. The Medical Assisting Program prepares students for clinical and laboratory procedures, administrative roles, human relations, and provides working knowledge in phlebotomy and EKG procedures. Students will gain a strong foundation in anatomy and physiology, medical terminology, the healthcare profession, and safety procedures. Upon successful program completion, students will be eligible for the National Healthcareer Association's (NHA) certifications in Certified Medical Assistant CCMA
